Is Your Service Making the Most of Available Training Funding?

What if you could strengthen leadership, improve workplace culture, and develop your care team – while reclaiming the cost of training?

CareTutor's Skills for Care funded leadership programmes and CPD courses give adult social care managers and aspiring leaders the practical knowledge, confidence and skills they need to lead effectively and support continuous improvement.

For eligible adult social care employers in England, the cost of eligible training may be fully reclaimable through the Learning and Development Support Scheme (LDSS), subject to current funding rules.

Practical training designed for real care settings

Our programmes are designed around the challenges managers and leaders face every day, including:

- Building effective and positive workplace cultures

- Managing performance and having difficult conversations
- Developing confidence as a leader
- Improving self-management and prioritisation
- Leading teams through change
- Supporting continuous improvement across your service

Learners take away practical strategies they can apply immediately within their role and service.

Who are these courses for?

Our funded programmes and CPD courses are suitable for:

- Registered Managers
- Deputy Managers
- Team Leaders
- Aspiring leaders
- Other eligible adult social care professionals

Whether you are developing an emerging leader or investing in the skills of your existing management team, these programmes provide an opportunity to build capability while making use of available funding.

Need a different date?

The dates above are our planned open cohorts, but we can also support organisations with their own training requirements.

If you have multiple managers or leaders who need training, we can arrange a dedicated cohort around your team's needs. If you cannot attend one of the advertised dates, you can also register your interest to discuss alternative options.

Make the most of available funding

Investing in leadership development can strengthen your workforce, improve confidence, and support better outcomes across your service.

If you are an eligible adult social care employer in England, now is a good time to explore which CareTutor programmes could support your team through LDSS funding.
